

NEW YORK READY SUPPLY ARMED EQUIPPED OFFICERS ARMY

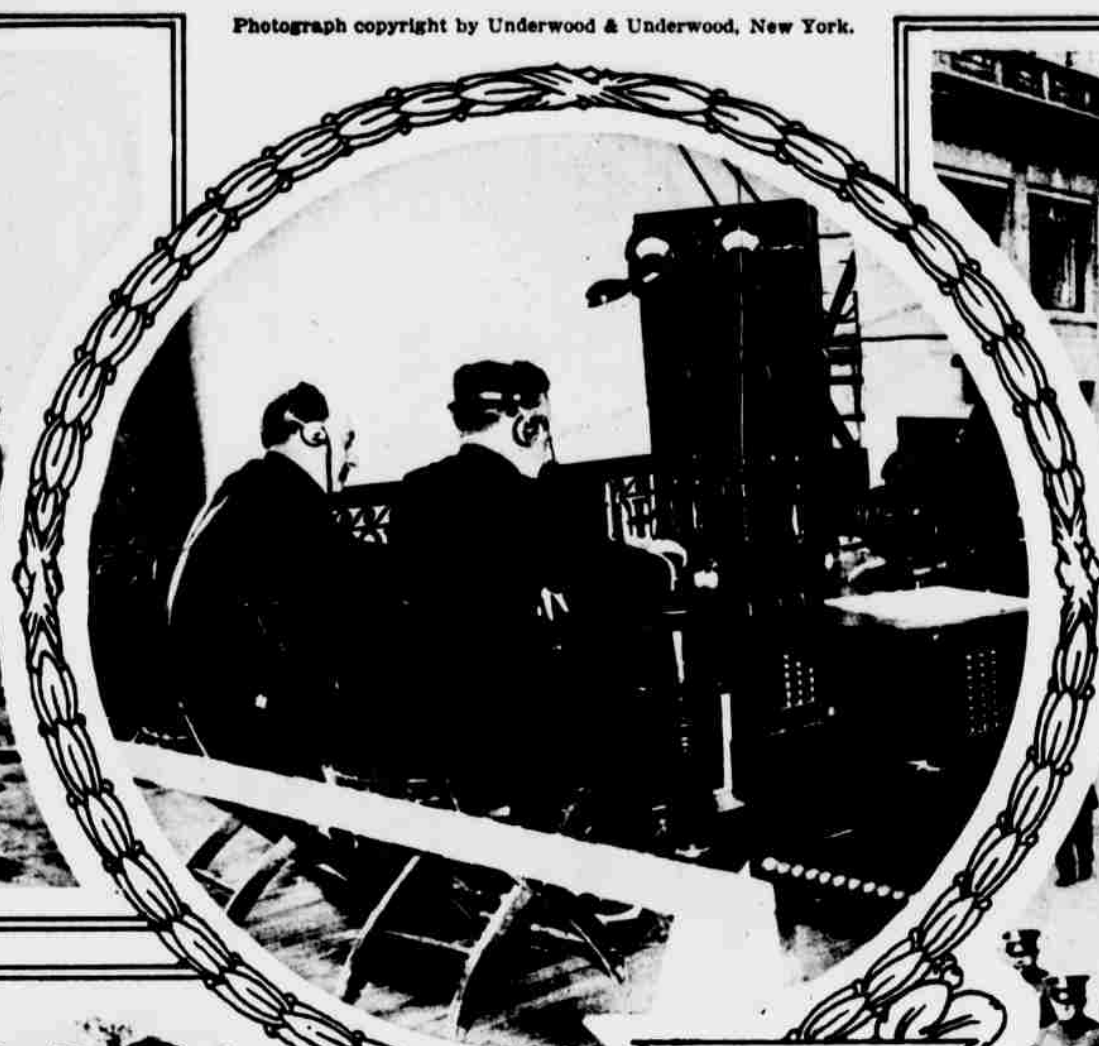

The New York police have a field battery, and constant drill has provided plenty of well trained gunners to handle the pieces. In view of the part played by artillery in warfare nowadays, the course of instruction in connection with the field battery is particularly valuable.

Photograph copyright by Underwood & Underwood, New York.

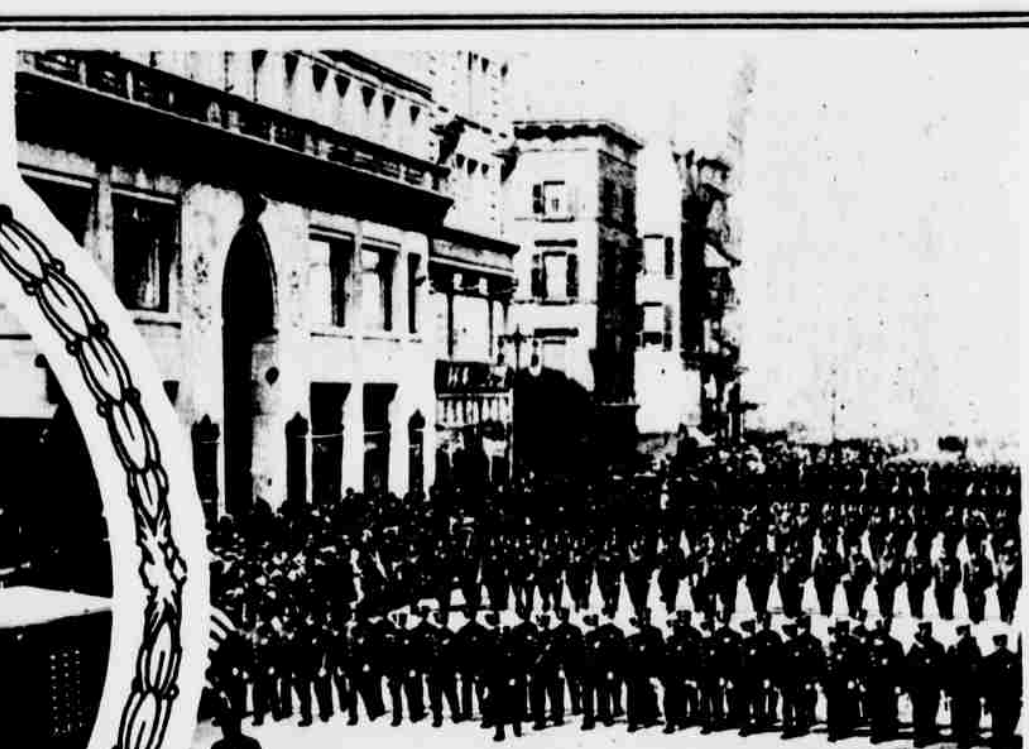

with the hoisting
ropes over the enemy.
Wright
Underwood.

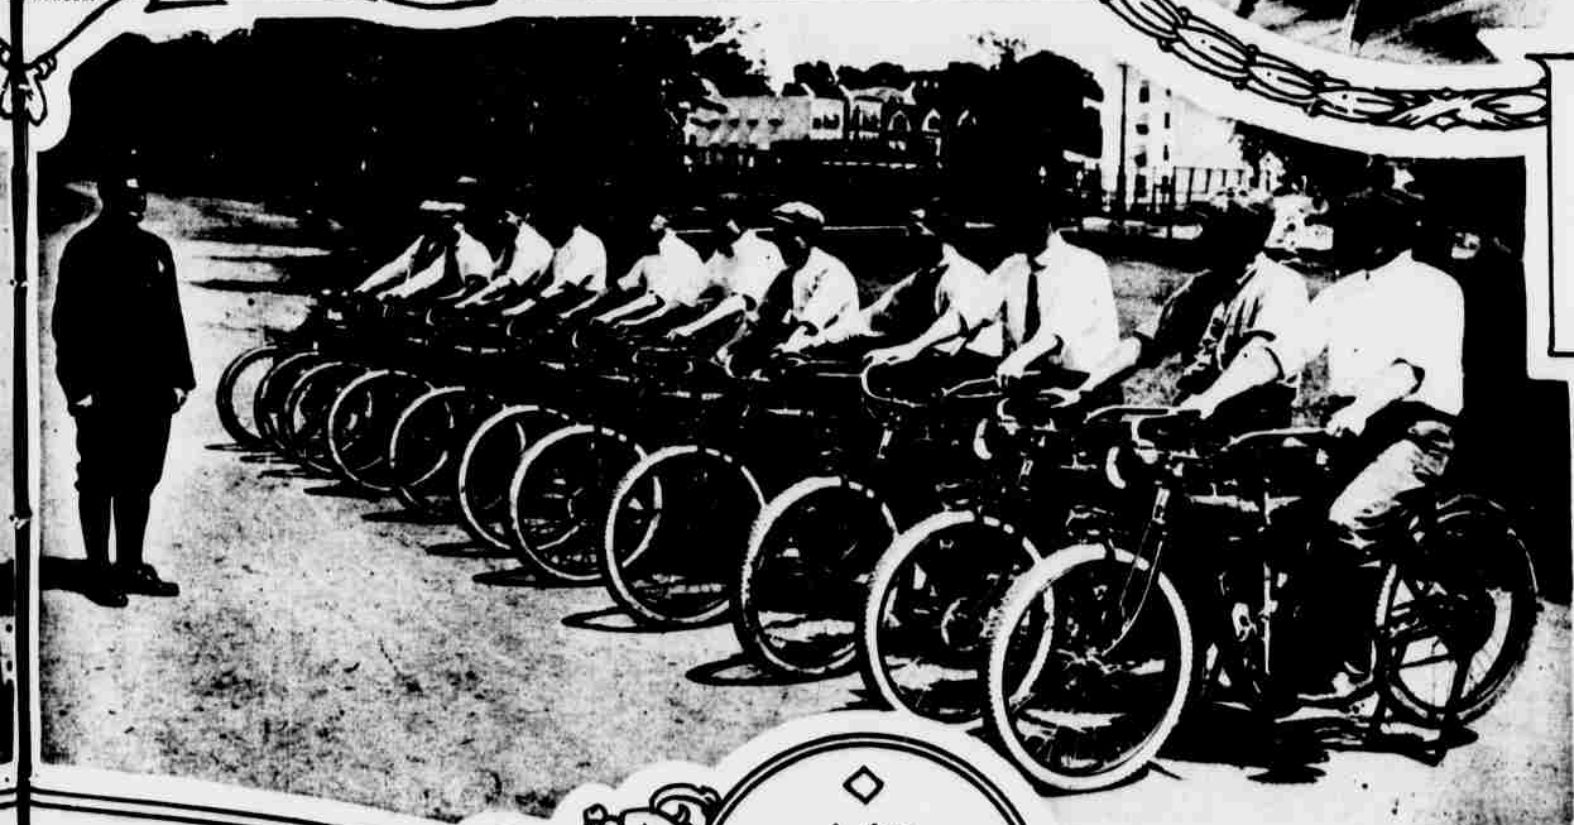

The police could supply trained wireless operators, as a wireless plant has been added to the equipment of the department.

Photos copyrighted by Underwood & Underwood.

Now in blue and brass buttons, but equally capable in the soldier's khaki. The kind of material the city police can furnish to the army.

A class in the motor-cycle school. Such men would be needed in the army as messengers.

They have been through the school of the soldier. In the picture they were off on a long practice ride.

Police preparedness includes the organization of a hospital squad. It is equipped with all the necessary apparatus and the men have received training in first aid to the injured and the duties which would fall to them on the battlefield.

Photo © Underwood & Underwood